Luxembourg
30 May 2008

Invitation

It is my great pleasure to be hosting the third Luxembourg Financial Forum, as organised at the initiative of Luxembourg for Finance, the Agency for the Development of the Financial Centre.

This year's forum aims at providing insight into the complex challenges of financial markets trapped in a global crisis and the future of Private Banking within an ever more global market place.

The quality and depth of the speakers that we have gathered together for this forum are testament to the established and premier position, as well as the international stance that has always been taken by the Luxembourg financial centre. It has developed into a prime stage for an ongoing discussion on core financial and economic issues of international importance.

I look forward to welcoming you at the Luxembourg Financial Forum 2008.

Initiator

Luxembourg for Finance, the Agency for the Development of the Financial Centre, is a public-private partnership between the Luxembourg State and the Luxembourg Financial Industry Federation (PROFIL). It consolidates and enhances the efforts made by the public authorities and principal actors of the financial sector to ensure the development of an innovative and professional financial centre.

The objective of the agency is to create a strong brand image of the Luxembourg financial centre through a coherent and structured communications policy.

Thus Luxembourg for Finance will enhance the external presentation of the financial centre, communicating the advantages of its products and services to a wider public and highlighting the numerous opportunities available to investors and clients, whether institutional or private, from all around the world.
